

Dear Physician Name,

Early detection of speech and language problems in children is often the key to effective treatment. During “May is Better Hearing and Speech Month” (BHSM), parents may be more likely to seek information or services related to the detection of speech or language disorders. The name of your organization, clinic, or private practice can offer speech-language services that can help parents seeking your advice when confronted with these problems.

We provide speech-language screenings and comprehensive evaluations to determine a specific area of concern and the appropriate method of treatment. If a speech problem is diagnosed, we offer therapeutic services in individual or group sessions.

Our outpatient speech-language services assist children who are experiencing language-based disorders, speech-sound production disorders, oral-motor and feeding problems, voice disorders, fluency disorders, and/or social-communication problems.

Please let us know how we can help the families you serve. If you have any questions, please contact us at your phone number.

Sincerely,
