CEU TEST QUESTIONS
Select the best answer for each question.
Use the answer sheet to record your responses.

1. How is speech perception defined in this article?
   A. the ability to read lips
   B. the process of transforming an acoustic signal into discrete linguistic units
   C. a progression from individual phonemes to complete words
   D. the ability to hear words

2. According to the motor theory of speech perception, the basic units of both speech perception and production are:
   A. phonemes
   B. words
   C. articulatory gestures
   D. lexical hierarchies

3. In this study, articulation accuracy was not shown to have a direct effect on phonological awareness.
   A. true
   B. false

4. When does comprehension and production of spoken words typically begin?
   A. during the second year of life
   B. during the first year of life
   C. in preschool
   D. when the child learns to read

5. The conclusion reached by the authors is that children with speech sound disorders (SSD) are:
   A. not eligible for assessment of their receptive vocabulary
   B. at low risk for delayed development of phonological awareness skills
   C. likely to have a comorbid language deficit
   D. at significant risk for delayed development of phonological awareness skills