Author Index

Anderson, K. L., & Crowley, D. J. When listening carefully is not enough: 12 steps to approaching speech-language pathology services for the child who is hard-or-hearing. October 2002. 33-36.

Auslander, M. Educational audiology in a rural setting. December 1996. 4-6.

Bradham, T. Efficacy issues in the evaluation and management of central auditory processing disorders. October 2001. 6-11.

Cone-Wesson, B. OAEs for neonatal hearing screening or all I ever needed to know I learned in the newborn nursery. March 1996. 8-12.

Diehl, S. Email list news: Cognitive referencing. September 1999. 23-27.

Eiten, L. R. Promoting clinical excellence: When the QI process doesn’t go your way. September 1999. 21-23.

Eiten, L. R. QI corner. September 1999. 21.

Hearing and Hearing Disorders in Childhood  December 2004

Jorgan, J. A. Bosnia speech and hearing project. May 2003. 6-8.

LeBlanc, B. M. Motivating the adolescent with a hearing loss to enjoy communicative skills training. October 2004. 12-16.

Liebrich, D. A. Ops, I thought I was an audiologist. May 2003. 15-17.

Marttila, J. Still forgotten after all these years? October 2002. 41-42.

Palmer, C. V. Documenting the impact of assistive listening technology in the classroom. August 1997. 9-14.

Pimentel, V. Remembering Mike Wynne. April 2004. 3.

Pratt, S. Current status and potential changes in the early behavioral intervention with infants with hearing loss. April 2002. 5-8.

Radaszewski-Byrne, M. Deaf education initiative: Background, update, and commentary. May 1993. 4-6.

Seaton, J. B. Owning a hearing loss: Arming students with information and support. October 2002. 43-46.

Subject Index

Nature of Hearing and Its Disorders

Auditory and Other Otic Pathologies

Auditory neuropathy in children.

Sinner, Y. S. April 1997. 6-11.

Biological basis of noise-induced hearing loss. Lonsbury-Martin, B. L. April 2004. 4-9.

Genetics of hearing loss: Contributions of mitochondrial DNA. Elfenbein, J. L. April 2002. 2-5.

Hearing Loss and Deafness

Biological basis of noise-induced hearing loss. Lonsbury-Martin, B. L. April 2004. 4-9.

Genetics of hearing loss: Contributions of mitochondrial DNA. Elfenbein, J. L. April 2002. 2-5.

Assessment of Hearing Screening

Diagnostic Audiology—General

Bosnia speech and hearing project. Jorgan, J. A. May 2003. 6-8.

Efficacy issues in the evaluation and management of central auditory processing disorders. Bradham, T. October 2001. 6-11.

It’s all about the questions: Clinical decision making in pediatric audiology. Wynne, M. K. July 2003. 8-10.

Specific Diagnostic Techniques and Approaches

OAEs for neonatal hearing screening or all I ever needed to know I learned in the newborn nursery. Cone-Wesson, B. March 1996. 8-12.

Pediatrics

Intervention

Habilitation, Rehabilitation, and Education

Bosnia speech and hearing project. Jorgan, J. A. May 2003. 6-8.

The child is the focus, not the approach. Ross, M. January 1995. 1-2.

Current status and potential changes in the early behavioral intervention with infants with hearing loss. Pratt, S. April 2002. 5-8.

Developing partnerships with the families of children who have hearing impairments. McNaughton, D. B. November 1997. 3-5.

Educational audiology in a rural setting. Auslander, M. December 1996. 4-6.

Internet materials for professionals serving children with hearing loss. Kuster, J. M. March 2001. 3-6

Oops, I thought I was an audiologist. Liebrich, D. A. May 2003. 6-8.

Our experience with auditory neuropathy: How professionals and parents can help each other. Solomon, N. July 2002. 30-32.

Still forgotten after all these years? Marttila, J. October 2002. 41-42.

Teens, hearing loss, and self-acceptance: We’ve got to talk about it! English, K. October 2004. 2-4.

When listening carefully is not enough: 12 steps to approaching speech language pathology services for the child who is hard-or-hearing. Anderson, K. L., & Crowley, D. J. October 2002. 33-36.

Hearing Aids and Other Prostheses

Bosnia speech and hearing project. Jorgan, J. A. May 2003. 6-8.

Cochlear implant Internet sites. Lewis, D. E. May 1998. 11.

Maximizing the potential benefits from FM system technology. Medwetsky, L. November 1993. 4-6.

Professional and General Scientific Issues

Professional Affairs

Professional Standards and Ethics

Deaf education initiative: Background, update, and commentary. Radaszewski-Byrne, M. May 1993. 4-6.

Service Provision Models and Problems

Promoting clinical excellence: When the QI process doesn’t go your way. Eiten, L. R. September 1999. 21-23.

QI corner. Eiten, L. R. September 1999. 21.

Interdisciplinary Concerns

Professional Training

Education and Continuing Education

Internet sites of interest. Lewis, D. E. October 1998. 5.

Clinical Supervision

Counseling

Oops, I thought I was an audiologist. Liebrich, D. A. May 2003. 15-17.

Title Index

Biological basis of noise-induced hearing loss. Lonsbury-Martin, B. L. April 2004. 4-9.

Bosnia speech and hearing project. Jorgan, J. A. May 2003. 6-8.

The child is the focus, not the approach. Ross, M. January 1995. 1-2.

Cochlear implant Internet sites. Lewis, D. E. May 1998. 11.

Current status and potential changes in the early behavioral intervention with infants with hearing loss. Pratt, S. April 2002. 5-8.

Deaf education initiative: Background, update, and commentary. Radaszewski-Byrne, M. May 1993. 4-6.

Developing partnerships with the families of children who have hearing impairments. McNaughton, D. B. November 1997. 3-5.

Educational audiology in a rural setting. Auslander, M. December 1996. 4-6.

Efficacy issues in the evaluation and management of central auditory processing disorders. Bradham, T. October 2001. 6-11.

Genetics of hearing loss: Contributions of mitochondrial DNA. Elfenbein, J. L. April 2002. 2-5.

Internet materials for professionals serving children with hearing loss. Kuster, J. M. March 2001. 3-6

Internet sites of interest. Lewis, D. E. October 1998. 5.

It’s all about the questions: Clinical decision making in pediatric audiology. Wynne, M. K. July 2003. 8-10.

Let’s hear it for ears. Granger, M. M. November 1993. 4-6.

Oops, I thought I was an audiologist. Moog, M. S. August 1995. 7-8.

QI corner. Eiten, L. R. September 1999. 21-23.

Promoting clinical excellence: When the QI process doesn’t go your way. Eiten, L. R. September 1999. 21.

QI corner. Eiten, L. R. September 1999. 21.

Remembering Mike Wynne. Pimentel, V. April 2004. 3.

Still forgotten after all these years? Marttila, J. October 2002. 41-42.

Teens, hearing loss, and self-acceptance: We’ve got to talk about it! English, K. October 2004. 2-4.

When listening carefully is not enough: 12 steps to approaching speech language pathology services for the child who is hard-or-hearing. Anderson, K. L., & Crowley, D. J. October 2002. 33-36.