I. INTRODUCTION

Background

ASHA's SLPA Certification Handbook describes the process by which individuals obtain and maintain ASHA SLPA Certification (C-SLPA). This handbook includes the requirements and standards that must be met by all individuals to obtain C-SLPA certification, and provides information about the application process. As a quick reference guide, this handbook is designed to provide a fluid, high level outline of the most important components of ASHA assistants certification. If you'd like more information in a particular area, follow the hyperlinks to the ASHA website for greater detail.

Purpose

The C-SLPA is a voluntary, entry-level credential recognizing SLPAs who have met established criteria and standards of practice to deliver high quality clinical service. The C-SLPA provides assurance to consumers, clients, healthcare professionals, employers, state licensure boards and third-party payers that certified individuals are keeping up with rapid changes in the professions' scopes of practice.

The C-SLPA designation demonstrates clinical skills and knowledge practice as an SLPA in all primary employment settings, including schools, hospitals, clinics, and private practice. ASHA's Assistants Certification Program was developed for SLPAs within the United States. Individuals outside of the U.S. may apply for assistants certification; however, the requirements have been set to U.S. practice.

The Assistants Certification Program

- helps improve patient/client access to speech-language pathology services by creating a pipeline of qualified professionals who meet uniform standards of competency and are committed to delivering high-quality care;
- establishes a uniform standard for the knowledge and skill level expected of assistants; and
- ensures that all ASHA-certified assistants meet the same rigorous requirements.

ASHA Overview

ASHA is the national professional, scientific, and credentialing association for 211,000 members and affiliates who are audiologists; speech-language pathologists; speech, language, and hearing scientists; audiology and speech-language pathology support personnel; and students. Audiologists specialize in preventing and assessing hearing and balance disorders as well as providing audiologic treatment, including hearing aids. Speech-language pathologists identify, assess, and treat speech and language problems, including swallowing disorders.

ASHA Assistants Program

ASHA Vision

Making effective communication, a human right, accessible and achievable for all.

ASHA Mission

Empowering and supporting audiologists, speech-language pathologists, and speech, language, and hearing scientists through:

- advancing science,
- setting standards,
- fostering excellence in professional practice, and
- advocating for members and those they serve.

Council for Clinical Certification in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CFCC)

The CFCC is a semi-autonomous credentialing body of ASHA. The charges to the CFCC are to define the standards for assistants certification; to apply those standards in granting assistants certification to individuals; to have final authority to withdraw assistants certification in cases where certification has been granted on the basis of inaccurate information; and to administer the assistants certification maintenance program.

The CFCC consists of 15 voting members, including at least five individuals who hold the ASHA Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology (CCC-A), at least five individuals who hold the ASHA Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology (CCC-SLP), two certified specialists in two different specialty areas, and two public members.

In addition to the above members, non-voting participants include 2 liaisons from the ASHA Board of Directors, an ex officio member from the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech Language Pathology (CAA), 2 student members from the National Student Speech Language Hearing Association (NSSLHA), a liaison from the Council of Academic Programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders (CAPCSD), and 1 National Office ex officio member.

All members, with the exception of the public members and ex officio members, must hold current ASHA certification in the appropriate area(s). Individuals from the profession of audiology and individuals from the profession of speech-language pathology must hold ASHA membership.

Role and Value of Assistants Certification

Being “certified” means holding ASHA audiology (C-AA) or speech-language pathology (C-SLPA) assistants certification. These nationally-recognized professional credentials represent a level of excellence in the audiology and speech-language pathology assistants fields.

Assistants Certification Categories

A certified assistant is an individual who has met current assistant certification standards and requirements, has followed all published policies and procedures, and who abides by the ASHA Assistants Code of Conduct (2020).

2020 Standards for ASHA SLPA Certification

The 2020 SLPA standards are currently in effect, a summary of which is listed below.

Standard I: Degree

The applicant for ASHA speech-language pathology assistants certification (hereafter, “applicant”) must meet one of the following eligibility requirements to apply for certification.

Standard II: Education

The applicant must complete mandatory course/training requirements in the areas of ethics, universal safety precautions, and patient/client/student confidentiality.

Standard III: Supervised Clinical Experience

The applicant must complete a supervised clinical experience that consists of a minimum of 80 hours of direct client/patient/students services, as well as 20 hours of indirect client/patient/student services, under the supervision of an ASHA-certified speech-language pathologist (SLP).

Standard IV: Assessment

The applicant must pass the national examination created by ASHA and approved by the CFCC.

Standard V: Assistants Code of Conduct

Applicants and C-SLPAs must abide by ASHA’s Assistants Code of Conduct.

Standard VI: Maintenance of Certification

C-SLPAs must complete a Maintenance of Certification Assessment (MOCA) at the end of their 3-year certification maintenance interval to show continued competency.

II. INITIAL CERTIFICATION PROCESS FOR SLPAs

Basic Requirements for Assistants Certification

To obtain ASHA assistants certification, individuals must submit a completed application and supporting documents, and pay the appropriate certification fees. All applicants for assistants certification must meet current SLPA standards and requirements, and follow all published policies and procedures. Individuals who apply for assistants certification must abide by the ASHA Assistants Code of Conduct.

Summary of Steps to Assistants Certification

Read the application page for SLPAs to determine if you meet the eligibility requirements for assistants certification, which includes the following:

- Eligible degree
- Three prerequisite courses completed no more than 2 years before application
- Completion of ASHA online education modules (or equivalent) if required
- Completion of fieldwork/clinical hours requirement

If you meet the requirements, you may submit an application for assistants certification. Once your application and supporting documents have been reviewed and approved, you will be notified by e-mail and provided an Exam Eligibility ID to register for the national Assistants Certification Exam.

Application Instructions

Here's a step-by-step guide to help you through the process of applying for ASHA SLPA certification. It includes important requirements for the Assistants Certification Program as well as required documentation, fees, and exam information.

All applicants for assistants certification must meet current SLPA standards and requirements, follow all established policies and procedures, and abide by the ASHA Assistants Code of Conduct.

Step 1: Choose Your Pathway

Review the three SLPA eligibility education pathway options and choose the one that best fits your education and qualifications.

ASHA Assistants Program

Step 2: Mandatory Requirements

- Complete 100 hours of clinical fieldwork (observation hours cannot be used) under the supervision of an ASHA-certified SLP.
- Complete a 1-hour course in ethics.
- Complete a 1-hour course in universal safety precautions.
- Complete a 1-hour course in patient confidentiality.
- Complete ASHA's online SLPA education modules, if required in your pathway option.

Prerequisite courses must have been completed no more than two years before you apply for the C-SLPA.

Step 3: Submit Your Application

- Submit your application for the C-SLPA and pay the initial certification fee of $249.
- Submit official transcripts and certificates of completion to ASHA within 60 days of submitting your application.

Your application isn't complete until you pay the certification fee.

Step 4: Application Review

The application review process can take up to 6 weeks from the date your last document is received.

Step 5: Exam Approval

- You'll be given an Exam Eligibility ID to register for the Assistants Certification Exam if your application, documents, and transcripts are approved.
- Once you have your Exam Eligibility ID, you have 365 days to register and take the exam.
- Your exam score will automatically be sent to ASHA for review, and you'll be notified if SLPA certification will be awarded. If a passing exam score was not achieved, you'll be eligible to retest up to two times by paying the $99 retest fee (within one year of approval to test).

Step 6: Certification Awarded

A passing score for the C-SLPA exam is 162 or higher. If you passed the exam, you'll be awarded the C-SLPA. Your ASHA affiliate card will be mailed to your address on file and the award letter will be arriving soon. You may now use C-SLPA after your signature.

Official Transcript

Part of the required supporting documentation is your official transcript, which may be submitted

- electronically from the institution (not the applicant) to assistants@asha.org, or
- by mail to ASHA, 2200 Research Blvd #313, Rockville, MD 20850.

Transcripts must indicate when the degree was awarded to you and must name the degree that you earned. In lieu of a transcript, a letter from the registrar may be sent. Letters must state that the degree requirements were met, the date the degree was awarded, and the name of the degree that was earned. If a letter from the registrar is submitted instead of the official transcript and if, for any reason, your application must be reviewed by the CFCC, an official transcript will be required for that review.

Transcripts, or letters from the registrar, must be received at ASHA within 60 days of your application being submitted. We must be able to verify your degree before we can give you approval to take the national exam.

Disclosure Questions

When applying for assistants certification, you are required to answer the following certification disclosure questions:

1. Have you have been convicted, found guilty, or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to any misdemeanor involving dishonesty, physical harm to the person or property of another, or a threat of physical harm to the person or property of another, or any felony?
2. Are you presently indicted on or charged with any misdemeanor involving dishonesty, physical harm to the person or property of another, or a threat of physical harm to the person or property of another, or any felony?
3. Have you been disciplined or sanctioned by any professional association, professional licensing authority or board, or other professional regulatory body, or denied a license or a professional credential by any professional association, professional licensing authority or board, or other professional regulatory body?

An answer of “yes” to any of the mandatory disclosure questions requires that you also submit the following:

- Certified copy of each court record or docket entry of the finding, conviction, or plea.
- If applicable, a certified copy from the governmental agency or agencies that includes the pleas and/or convictions and demonstrates remediation.
- Certified copy of documentation from that professional agency or agencies that includes the denial, discipline, or sanctions imposed and demonstrates, if applicable, remediation.
- Résumé reflecting your work history since the time of the offense.

A certified copy is a copy of an original document where that copy has been officially certified as a true and correct copy by an authorized person. The person may certify the copy of the original document through a dated stamp, a dated written notation, or both.

ASHA Assistants Program

Applications submitted with a “yes” response to a disclosure question will require additional processing time and will be reviewed by the CFCC. Answering “yes” to any disclosure questions will not automatically prevent certification from being awarded. All relevant factors are given consideration in the review process.

III. NATIONAL EXAM FOR ASSISTANTS CERTIFICATION

ASHA Assistants Certification Exam

The ASHA Assistants Certification Exam is a national exam created by ASHA and approved by the Council for Clinical Certification in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CFCC). The exam was developed to establish standards of knowledge and competency for audiology assistants or a speech-language pathology assistants \(SLPAs\). It assesses assistants' knowledge and skills to ensure that they clearly understand (a) their appropriate Scope of Practice, (b) how an assistant must be supervised, and (c) the basic tasks performed in an assistant's role.

Applicants for assistants certification must pass the national exam to be considered an ASHA-certified assistant in audiology or speech-language pathology and be awarded the C-SLPA or C-SLPA credential.

In order to take the exam, applicants for assistants certification must first have (1) received approval of their application and required documentation, and (2) paid the initial certification fee of $249 (includes assistants certification exam and one year of affiliation). The exam is administered by Prometric on behalf of ASHA and it will be available at testing centers throughout the U.S. and online through live proctoring.

Passing Exam Score

The CFCC makes the final determination for the passing score.

- The current passing score for audiology assistants is 162.
- The current passing score for SLPAs is 162.

Preparing for the Exam

To prepare for the Assistant Certification Exam, become familiar with the format and the content of the exam by (1) reviewing the exam blueprint, (2) using the exam resources, and (3) studying the practice exam questions available. Then, develop a study plan based on the exam content and your knowledge in each topic area. (See the next page for SLPA-specific resources.)

The exam is made up of 100 multiple choice questions that were created by peers in the field, including educators, audiologists, speech-language pathologists, and assistants.

Registering for the Exam

- Once you are approved to take the exam, a unique Exam Eligibility ID and link to register for the national exam will be emailed to you by ASHA staff.
- Select the link in the email to register for the exam and to select the test date and location that best meets your needs.
- You have one year to schedule and take the exam once you've been approved.

ADA Accommodations

ASHA is dedicated to making the testing process accessible to all and strives to provide access—to the fullest extent possible—to activities based on awareness of the registrants' needs. The Americans with Disability Act (ADA) provides protection to individuals with disabilities, with a record or history of an impairment/disability or who is regarded as having an impairment/disability. The ADA requires the provision of reasonable accommodations to support access to goods, services, facilities, advantages or accommodations offered. However, reasonable accommodations will not alter the nature of the exam, result in undue financial and administrative burden, or affect the health and safety of an individual or others.

If you require ADA accommodations for the exam as part of the application process, you will be required to provide documentation from a qualified professional who has made an individualized assessment that supports the need for the requested testing accommodation. Appropriate documentation will vary depending on the nature of the disability and the specific testing accommodation requested. Examples of types of documentation include:

ASHA Assistants Program

- recommendations of qualified professionals
- proof of past testing accommodations
- observations by educators
- results of psycho-educational or other professional evaluations
- an applicant's history of diagnosis
- an applicant's statement of his or her history regarding testing accommodations

All personal and application information submitted by applicants and/or certificate holders is considered confidential and will not be shared with any party other than ASHA's Certification staff or administration vendors for certification testing purposes. Mail documentation to:

ASHA
c/o Certification Department
2200 Research Blvd., #313
Rockville, MD 20850

Retest Policy

After you take the exam, your score will automatically be sent to ASHA for review and you will be notified of your results. If you didn't receive a passing score of 162 or higher, you will be eligible to retest up to two more times within one year of your initial approval to test. You may take the exam again by paying the $99 retest fee and then scheduling a retest date.

Applicants may take the exam no more than three times within one year. If you don't receive a passing score within one year, your application will be closed. If you wish to reapply for assistants certification, you may do so by submitting a new application under the assistant certification standards in effect at the time.

SLPA Exam Blueprint

The SLPA Exam Blueprint [PDF] was developed through a research-based practice analysis by SLPAs, SLPs, and educators to ensure that the certification reflects emerging data, applied knowledge, and best practices. The SLPA national exam is based the information in the blueprint.

IV. CFCC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES RELATED TO CERTIFICATION APPEALS

Certification Disclosure Appeals

Certification Revocation Appeals

The CFCC will review any complaint regarding the application or supporting materials of a certification applicant, reinstatement applicant, or certificate holder. These complaints may include but are not limited to the authenticity of application materials, misrepresented credentials, national examination scores, misrepresentation of required affirmative disclosures, tampering with official documents, or cases where certification may have been granted in error.

If the CFCC withdraws certification based on misrepresentation of credentials, authenticity of application materials, nondisclosure of criminal offenses, disciplinary action by regulatory bodies, or certification granted in error, the applicant may request that the CFCC reconsider its decision in accordance with the appropriate policies and procedures.

V. MAINTENANCE OF CERTIFICATION ASSESSMENT (MOCA)

Individuals who hold audiology assistants certification (C-AA) or speech-language pathology assistants certification (C-SLPA) must complete the certification maintenance assessment module/MOCA module during the third and final year of each 3-year maintenance interval. During the third year of the interval, the assistants certificate holder will be able to access the modules by logging into their ASHA My Account page. Completed MOCA modules will be reviewed by ASHA Certification staff. Individuals will be notified via e-mail whether or not they have successfully completed the MOCA, and those successful will progress to a new 3-year interval.

Requirements for Maintaining Assistants Certification

Assistants certificate holders must do the following to maintain their C-AA or C-SLPA.

- Successful completion of the certification maintenance assessment module
- Adherence to the ASHA Assistants Code of Conduct
- Payment of annual certification fees

Certification Maintenance Intervals

A certification maintenance interval is three years in duration (e.g., 2020–2022, 2021–2023) and you will be assigned to an interval based on the date you were awarded assistants certification. Your interval will begin January 1 following the year you received initial certification or reinstatement of certification.

Maintenance intervals are continuous, meaning when you complete one 3-year interval you will start the next 3-year interval, provided you have completed your certification maintenance assessment module. ASHA does not grant interval changes.
